CENTRAL VALLEY | GIVE LIFE TO YOUR STORY

CAMPUS LIFE MENTOR TEAMS

God is giving us the opportunity to walk alongside many teens and share the hope we have found in Christ. This begins with sharing our own lives. As we learn their stories and honestly tell about our own, the needed trust is built up to talk about God's invitation for us all to become life-long followers of Jesus.

Being a Campus Life Mentor takes an average of five hours per week, although it may never leave your mind! You will volunteer with school activities, get to know dozens of kids by name, help lead a fun club with games / discussions / Jesus stories, meet up with students before or after school, and build Christ sharing relationships.

Steps for mentors on junior high campuses involve: 1) facilitating day-long antibully workshops, 2) leading follow-up activities for three weeks, 3) coordinating intramural tournaments for a month, 4) hosting a Campus Life club before or after school. This helps mentors meet 100 students and eventually talk personally with a few about following Jesus.

Campus Life began at La Loma Junior High in Spring 2018. Starting Fall 2018, Youth For Christ Central Valley is launching similar ministries at the junior highs of Blaker-Kinser, Mae Hensley and Cesar Chavez. In 2019 we are looking forward to starting Campus Life at Ceres High, Central Valley High, Modesto High, Johansen High and possibly others.

Just like Jesus' followers, we mentor together in teams. Five people are needed for Campus Life at each school. These teams also share life with each other, enjoying good friendships and meeting together every other month.

Please pray about joining us as a Campus Life Mentor. After turning in a Youth For Christ volunteer packet and $25 for the background check, we look forward to finding the best place for you to give life to your story!
